

Welcome

What do we learn about ourselves in the present when we look to the past to see how we imagined the future?

This is the question in/future: a transformative art experience invites you, as it did its participating artists and creative partners, to think about as you explore the various art projects scattered throughout the magical West Island of Ontario Place.

in/future is the culmination of 100 art projects, site-specific installations, film, video and performances, 40 musical acts from around the globe along with 32 partnering arts organizations all coming together to animate an iconic venue that was once home to amusement park rides, arcades, educational silos and pavilions.

Reflecting on Ontario Place's genesis as a cultural hub that both looked backward to Montreal's Expo 67 for inspiration and dreamed of future innovations, in/future examines the overlapping layers of time at play in Ontario Place's present. The festival has invited artists to transform this once-futuristic site in order to envision the future anew and to explore the complex interpretations of time by which we open up new ways of thinking about the current moment; to investigate various aspects of Ontario Place's character and history—from notions of play and the carnivalesque, to tensions between the natural and the manufactured; from utopian visions for technology, culture, and society, to histories of Toronto's relationship to Ontario's North.

in/future is well-positioned to engage in a meaningful way with an ongoing and significant shift in Toronto's creative ecology manifesting along the waterfront. This one time event serves as an opportunity to engage this iconic space through creative thinking and productive dreaming about our future.

Site-Specific Art Projects

Presented by Art Spin & Creative Partners

Wander the West Island to explore over 50 multidisciplinary art projects created and curated specially for in/future. Enter the majestic and haunting silos where you'll encounter immersive artworks, explore the South Shore, the Temple Bell Plaza and the winding picturesque paths to find a wide array of outdoor installations. Visit the Arcade and Atom Blaster Pavilions to see group exhibitions from an impressive range of artists from various disciplines.

Performances

Scattered across the West Island there are a wide variety of special performances scheduled daily, inclusive of contemporary dance, performance art, roving musicians, and live audiovisual experiences, be sure to check the in/fo Pavilion for daily schedules. Keep one eye out for the Swan Boat Residency, with a changing roster of artists and performers in residence.

Workshops/Talks/Tours

Enjoy engaging lecture series presented by Waterfront Toronto and Onsite Gallery at OCADU, interactive and educational programming for kids & school groups presented by George Brown College Institute Without Boundaries, The Power Plant's Power Kids and Blank Canvases, as well as guided tours and artist talks. Check the in/fo Pavilion for daily schedules.

in/fo & in/store Pavilion

Visit the in/fo Pavilion to find daily schedules and get answers to all of your questions or to find our lost and found. Learn about the history of the site with our Ontario Place timeline. Browse the in/store and the Art Metropole pop-up to take home a little piece of the festival with a limited edition item made by local artists inspired by in/future.

Cinesphere

Presented by Air France

Opened in 1971 as the first permanent IMAX theatre in the world, the iconic Cinesphere will come to life once again to showcase a daily changing schedule of 44 contemporary film & video works, and live audiovisual performances. Don't miss a rare opportunity to see six original IMAX films from the 70s and 80s—such as the renowned North of Superior—most of which haven't been screened for the public in over 30 years. Check the in/fo Pavilion for daily schedules.

Small World Music Stage

Presented by Exodus Travels

For its 15th edition, the Small World Music Festival is proud to be part of in/future. Showcasing the best sounds from around the world and around the corner, Small World celebrates the cultural diversity of Ontario with artists who combine tradition with a view to the future. And they bring the party to a venue with a rich musical history!
